

Cyber Risk Summit

Toronto | April 5 & 6, 2022 | Frequently Asked Questions

We will be fully complying with all Federal, State, and Local guidance regarding meetings. We are working closely with the Ritz Carlton to ensure we are creating a safe and secure environment for all our guests and staff. You can view their policies here. Below, we have outlined some FAQs. These FAQs will be revised should guidelines change prior to the opening of our Toronto Summit.

Q Is NetDiligence Staff vaccinated?

A Yes, the NetDiligence® staff is fully vaccinated..

Q Are we requiring proof of vaccination?

A Yes, all attendees must be fully vaccinated. At time of on-site check-in, proof of COVID-19 vaccination must be presented to NetDiligence® staff. Copy of Canadian Proof of Vaccination card, CDC card, or country-specific equivalent in photo/digital/print format are all acceptable. We will not be collecting or retaining documentation.

Q Are we doing temperature checks?

A No, but we ask all attendees to behave in a responsible manner by monitoring yourself and if you have a fever or cold/flu-type symptoms, you will stay home.

Q What should I do if I start feeling sick during the conference?

A Please contact the conference staff immediately should you start feeling ill. We will assess the situation and provide appropriate resources for testing and isolation, if necessary.

Q Are face masks required during meetings?

A Yes. When indoors, individuals must wear a face covering, irrespective of physical distance.

Q Are face masks required during eating?

A No. When eating, individuals may remove their face covering while seated at their table.

Q What types of things are you doing to keep attendees safe?

A There are many protocols being put in place to ensure everyone's safety.

1. We are implementing a new contactless registration system for check-in. This includes scanning technology to confirm compliance with capacity restrictions.
2. Hand sanitizing stations throughout all meeting rooms.
3. In lieu of large swag bags given away at check-in, we will have small lunch totes for each delegate.
4. Colored wristbands will be provided at registration to allow attendees to indicate their preferred level of social interaction.
